

BECOME A CONNECTIONS THERAPIST!

What is Connections at Project Harmony?

What is Connections?

- A prevention program based out of Project Harmony that matches children in need of mental health services with a skilled therapist in the Omaha area
- Connections works to engage the therapist, family and school to meet the child's treatment goals and assists the family with barriers.
- Supports both group and individual therapy models. Services offered in school or in office

Incentives for therapists:

- Free Evidence Based Practice Training
- Case management and barrier assistance for families
- Payment for indirect costs associated with serving Connections clients
- Incentives for seeing kids during evening and weekend times and referring a new provider to Connections
- Reimbursement for providers who travel to a client's home or school for therapy appointments
- and more!

Therapist requirements:

- Post graduate experience working with children ages K-8th grade
- Experience with evidenced based models and trauma informed care
- A passion for helping children and families

How do I become a Connections therapist?

- Connections is always looking to expand and diversify our pool of providers.
- Please contact Lindsey Stevens, Provider Network Supervisor, if interested.
